Local Celebrity, the Green Man, Talks to Teens about Being Green

MusEco Media and Education Project, a Billings-based non-partisan, non-profit organization focused on environmental sustainability, music, and Native American issues is bringing the widely-loved television personality The Green Man to the Parmly Billings Library to speak to area teens in “Green Teen 101,” an interactive workshop about living a more eco-friendly life.

Known from his television series, Green Smarts with the Green Man” that airs locally on KTVQ television, the CW Network and Montana PBS, the Green Man himself is an excellent source of information, encouragement and sustainable living resources!

The Green Man will discuss the simple things that can be done to foster a lifestyle that embraces sustainability, while answering questions and providing additional local and national sustainable living resources.

Most exciting will be the opportunity for area teens to engage in a Q&A session with the one and only Green Man! And all attendees will receive a special Green Smarts with the Green Man eco-sticker and have the opportunity to sign up to win a Green Man eco-t-shirt!

“Green Teen 101” will be presented at the 3rd floor of Parmly Billings Library on at 2 p.m., June 15, 2011. For more information and to sign up, contact Reference and Teen Librarian Jennifer Kruger at the library at 657-8294.

Stay tuned for the Green Man’s next speaking engagement with the Girl Scouts! This upcoming event will be held on Saturday, October 15, 2011; for more information visit: <http://gsmw.org/> (Girl Scouts Website) or www.GreenManTV.org. Local media are always welcome to attend.
